Code

PC $ Value Δ99058 36 For purposes of this code, "emergency basis" shall be defined to include referrals from other physicians who consider medical issues serious enough to request the referring physician to disrupt their existing schedule to see a patient on an expedited basis. 99060 BRΔ99070 BR Supplies and materials normally necessary to perform the service are not separately reimbursable. Supplies and materials provided over and above those usually included with the office or other service rendered may be charged for separately. List each reimbursable drug or supply separately. Documentation showing actual costs associated with providing supplies and materials plus 15 percent to cover overhead costs will be adequate justification for payment. This provision does not apply to retail operations involving drugs or supplies. Administration of drugs to patients in clinical setting are covered under this code.
