Discussion & Action of ADOSH Discrimination Complaint

#10-64  Sergio Alvarez v. Rutherford Diversified Industries, Inc. – Darin Perkins advised that this file was previously presented to the Commission and that the Commission approved the filing of a complaint in Superior Court, subject to additional investigation being conducted. At that time, the Commission requested that additional investigation be conducted regarding the treatment of other employees who filed workers’ compensation claims, and asked that the file be brought back to the Commission, if necessary, for reconsideration. Mr. Perkins described the additional investigation that was conducted. He stated that four other employees filed workers’ compensation claims. Staff was able to contact two of these employees. Mr. Perkins described that neither employee suffered any negative or adverse action from the employer as a result of their industrial injury. Based upon this new information, Mr. Perkins stated that he and Rachel Morgan, staff attorney, believe that the complainant has not met his burden of proof and that if the Commission continues to move forward with this case, it will be more difficult to prevail. Mr. Perkins recommended that the Commission reconsider its prior action and not pursue the case. Following discussion, the Commission unanimously agreed to reconsider its prior decision on motion of Mr. Parker, second of Mr. McCarthy. The Commission unanimously voted to not pursue the complaint on motion of Mr. Parker, second of Mr. McCarthy.
